FREE FOR ALL seems to be the by-word around UB this year. In the upper picture one of our cute co-eds keeps her distance between four girl-hungry males. This was last year!

The situation seems to be just the opposite this year, with the girls vying for the honor of escorting the men around the campus.

At present there are 125 men living in dormitories on the campus and 196 women. This presents a problem which is illustrated in the picture above.

Last semester the statistics were 156 men to 133 women.

Deadline for Esquire Girl Nomination Nears As 9 Entries Reach Contest Headquarters

So far nine UB co-eds have been nominated for the SCRIBE'S campus beauty contest to select a candidate for the national "Miss 1951 Esquire Calendar Girl" contest sponsored by Esquire Magazine.

Beverlee Burlant, Miss Bridgeport; Barbara Sage, Miss Journalism of 1950; Lee Kowall; Beverly Hough; Flo Spector; Pat Rogoff; Betty-Ann Peterson, Miss Kick-off; Pat Clifford, 1949 Wistaria Queen; and Joan Putnam, 1950 Freshman Queen, are the first applicants to enter. Remember any co-ed is eligible to be nominated by any person or group on campus. Entries must be submitted to the SCRIBE office before October 15.

The UB finalist will be judged in a coast-to-coast college girl contest by Bing Crosby, Kay Kyser, Milton Berle, Eddie Cantor, Horace Heidt, Fred Waring, Rudy Vallee, and Ralph Edwards. The Queen will be rewarded an all-expense trip to New York, a screen test by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, appearances on network, radio, and television shows, and a write-up in Esquire Magazine.

Hundreds Jam Little Theatre For 'Campus Thunder' Tryouts

Over 200 students jammed the Little Theatre last week to compete for singing, dancing and dramatic roles in UB's now famous musical extravaganza, "Campus Thunder" to open at the Klein, November 15 through 18.

More than 50 people will take part in this year's show which will introduce ten new stars to the Klein stage aided by eight "Thunder" veterans.

Among the newcomers featured in the show will be Joyce Mathewson, a "Neigher Nifty for '50" and the "Mary Martin" of last year's Wistaria Pageant; Kitty Michaels, Doris Maloney, "Miss West Haven of 1949" and "Marilyn Miller" in the 1950 Wistaria Pageant; Beatrice Hickson, Ed Heske, Summer radio announcer for WLIZ and narrator of the Wistaria Pageant of 1950; Ramon Font-Felizola, Venezuelan student who was a feature dancer in the Pageant; Delores Casillo, who will be in charge of the modern dance group; Arnold Saperstein, the famous Geni of the show; Patricia Cole, a former student with the Yale Drama Group; and John Briethaupt, the "Red Shadow" of the 1950 Wistaria Pageant.

Old-timers returning to the footlights are Gerry and Stew Baker, who will again be the leads of the musical; Maxine Levine, Frank Castelluci, Fred Blumberg, Mary Pierrello, James Mehorter, and James Quigley.

Photography Club Stages New Membership Drive

Glamorous Councilmen Cry For Constitutional Changes

Students Requested To Sign Petition

On the front page of this week's issue of the SCRIBE is a Student Council Petition requesting immediate action on controversial SCAC question.

All students are urged to fill out the ballot and leave it in boxes which will be located next to distribution points of the SCRIBE.

Stormy Student Session Supports Spontaneous Sacking of SCAC

By RUTH ZUCKER
Political Reporter

In an explosive session, last week the Student Council balloted for the termination of the Student Council Advisory Committee, and went on record as favoring the discontinuance of class officers.

Marred by over-enthusiasm instead of the unusual passiveness and restraint, the meeting jolted the campus political scene with its decisions.

A resolution to "amend the constitution eliminating SCAC" and that, "any powers conferred to SCAC by the constitution be conferred to the student Council," was made by the student representatives.

The overwhelming ballot was on the heels of a Student Council committee investigating the failure of SCAC during its existence.

The issue will now be brought to the students for consideration. A two-thirds vote by the student body favoring the Student Council's resolution is necessary to ratify the ballot. Notice of the referendum for the proposed amendment will be posted on the bulletin boards one week prior to the student vote.

In a debate on the advisability of keeping class officers the Student Council went on record as saying that they prefer to abolish class officers.

It is felt by the administration that the class officers have no possible job, or function they can fulfill.

Their solution seemed quite practical. Rather than abolish class offices, they felt that a seat on the Student Council should be given them. The Student Council, on the other hand, offered a slightly harsher answer to this problem. They felt that the Student Council member of each class receiving the highest number of votes should automatically receive the title of class-president.

This new plan would work for the vice president, secretary, and treasurer. It would eliminate our class officer elections and leave us with only one election. The ultimate decision, however, is not up to the Student Council alone. This is a matter in which the administration has the final say.

CAMPUS BRIEFS

Pi Omega Chi, social fraternity, will be the first fraternity on campus to have a Queen of its own. Sid Litwak and Norden Hahn, president, announced at a meeting last week that the fraternity will sponsor a Sweetheart contest to select "The Sweetheart of Pi Omega Chi" to be crowned at a dance Dec. 2.

Oct. 27 is the date set for the Delta Epsilon Beta Annual Harvest Ball at Glorieta Manor at 8:30 p. m. All students may attend the dance. Tickets will cost $2.00 per couple. Co-chairmen are Jim Murray and Bill Kohler and the publicity director is Abe Gordon.

Even though students working in various buildings on campus for the University are on jobs that are approved, their names must be registered with the Placement Office, Howland Hall, third floor.

Ethel Goldstein, a Linden Hall sophomore, is believed to be the only girl holding an active office in an all-male fraternity. Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, has appointed Ethel corresponding secretary in the firm belief that women make better secretaries than men. Ethel, a French major, is pleased with her new job as a fraternity member.

The University's nurse, Mrs. Doris C. Hoffman, R. N., has announced clinic hours as 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4:45 p. m., Mondays through Fridays. The physician will be in Bishop 204 for consultations Monday through Friday from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. Appointments to see him must be made through the nurse's office.

Dr. Robert H. W. Strang's third edition of his book, "Textbook of Orthodontia" has come off the press. First editions, appearing in 1933 and 1943, have been a standard text in dental schools throughout the country. The 900 page volume contains approximately 1,000 illustrations.

Meet Your Scribe Editors

Stanley Josephson Benjamin Raubvogel Mike McCluskey

By MARILYN SORRENTINO

As a special feature to introduce the people who make publication of the SCRIBE possible, we are going to interview all staff members to acquaint students with those behind the news.

This week, we would like you meet Ben Raubvogel, editor-in-chief, Mike McCluskey, managing editor, and Stan Josephson, business manager.

BEN EDITS

Ben is the first student at our University to work his way up the ladder of success on the SCRIBE. In his freshman year, he worked as a general reporter and in his sophomore year, advanced to the position of news editor. Last year, Ben became managing editor, and now he has achieved the editorship. Besides working on the SCRIBE, Ben founded and edited in 1948 UB's Summertime News for two years.

Taking up Ben's spare time are a number of college organizations. He is secretary-treasurer of the honorary journalism fraternity, Pi Delta Epsilon, and also a member of Alpha Gamma Phi. Ben has served as stage manager and publicity director of Campus Productions and chairman of the Campus Chest.

MIKE MANAGES

Mike McCluskey is the man answering to the title of managing editor of the SCRIBE. He is a senior majoring in journalism and has worked on the SCRIBE for three years.

Mike began his journalistic career as a reporter in 1946-47. In his sophomore year, he attended the University of Bridgeport evenings and then returned to the SCRIBE as sports editor in his junior year. Now Mike holds the second highest position on the SCRIBE staff.

He was a member of the Intramural Sports Council in 1949 and 1950 and last year, he also worked as publicity director for UB's yearbook, The Wistarian. This year, Mike is president of Pi Delta Epsilon, the honorary journalism fraternity.

STAN'S ALL BUSINESS

Heading the business staff of the SCRIBE is Stan Josephson. This is his second year on the paper. Last year, during the Fall semester, Stan worked as makeup editor and then transferred to accountant in February. Now as business manager, he handles all financial matters for the SCRIBE.

Stan is very active in Campus Productions serving there, also as business manager. He is in charge of all financial and business departments of campus productions.

Other campus activities for him include membership in the Political Union, the Knights of Thunder and recording secretary for Pi Omega Chi. Stan also served as "parade marshal" for Gridiron Week.

Students Urged to Learn Fire Safety Regulations

Students are urged to acquaint themselves with routes of exits from all university buildings as fire drills and inspections will be held without prior notice. In order to know how to conduct yourself in a fire emergency, it is imperative that all students read the fire exit instructions which are prominently posted in every room in the university.

Mock Funeral At 'Grid' Rally

Last Friday night's "Beat Wilkes Football Rally" at Barnum Field was a success for all concerned, according to the Social Activities Committee.

Starting off the evening's festivities with a bang, a torchlight parade wound its way from Marina Hall to the athletic field, where the whole crowd joined in a mock funeral and the burning of a Wilke's football player in effigy. The University band, cheerleaders, and several members of the football team were on hand to lead the songs and cheering.

Members of the committee in charge included Norden Hahn, chairman; William Johnson, Charles Smith, Nancy Longfield, and Ersila Ross.

A Student Government Report

The Case Of The Student Advisory Committee

By NORDON HAHN and STEWART BAKER

AS TOLD TO DULCIE PONON

Ed. Note: The following article was compiled from an interview with Nordon Hahn, vice-president SCAC 1949-50; and Stewart Baker, only remaining member of the 1947-48 Student Council.

Last Wednesday the Student Council voted to amend the Constitution eliminating the Student Council Advisory Committee. For the story behind the action we must go back two years to the formation of the Student Council and the SCAC.

In 1947 when the Student Council and the SCAC were first organized it was intended that student problems originate with the SCAC rather than on the Student Council floor. With this system the council was free to work on important issues. The committee functioned adequately at first, as they had ample problems to work on. Eventually, however, because of the size of SCAC many students began going directly to the Student Council, in an effort to save time. The Council instead of sending the problem to the SCAC, took direct action themselves, and it was not long before the SCAC became virtually unknown.

Despite losing our recognition, the SCAC made an attempt to work as a unit and remain an active organization. Due to the lack of capable leadership we were unsuccessful and became more of a burden to the Student Council. With the problem of leadership in mind we feel that the only way leadership can be developed in SCAC is to appoint the officers at the close of the school term for the coming year.

At the first meeting of the SCAC last year there was a large attendance. While all the organizations represented were not interested in SCAC they were still willing to work along with it. Due to the lack of any meaty problems to work with, attendance dropped off considerably. Combining this factor with poor leadership, SCAC accomplished nothing during the first semester.

During this period the Student Council made no attempt to assist or offer suggestions which would aid in getting SCAC started again on the right foot. During the second semester, however, the Student Council was faced with the problem of setting up a new election program for the May elections. Those who still believed in SCAC enough to co-operate with it, formed a program, and the job they did was terrific. It was the first properly run election in the school's history.

After the election it was found that it was the cleanest election, and that more people had voted than ever before. This was a major factor in passing the Student Activities Ticket through. This was SCAC's only accomplishment during the year. Although other projects were started they were never completed.

The SCAC is the most represented group on campus and is the only way for students and organizations to express their gripes. With SCAC working as a screening and investigating committee for the Student Council, petty gripes can be discarded without wasting valuable time on them.

Important issues can be investigated and the Student Council can receive factual reports. The Student Council is not large enough to take up all the problems thoroughly and they could not possibly hear all the students who would like to voice their opinions on different matters.

If the SCAC were abolished the students would have no way of expressing their complaints, without going through a great deal of red tape. Abolishing the SCAC would mean that when problems arose such as: parking space, snack bar inefficiency and the like, nothing could be done about them.

When this referendum comes before the students, it is up to them to consider it with utmost care.

UB Students Do Co-op Work With Ten Bridgeport Firms

Twenty-six students are presently participating in the cooperative work study program in cooperation with ten local firms. Under the work study program, one student of a two-man team spends a semester in academic study while his partner receives practical on-the-job experience.

Average earnings of the working students for a 19-week period in the fall of 1949 was $655 in the engineering field, and $633 in the field of business administration. During the spring semester, for a comparable period, an average of $688 was reported in engineering and $656 for business administration students. Students thus far are working as mechanical and industrial engineers, public and industrial accountants, and in different phases of marketing.

Students now participating in the program are Thomas Baldwin, Robert Casey, Robert Jacko, Thomas Malick, Wilbur Ressler, Stanley Silver, Eugene Hope, Charles Milasso, employed by the Bullard Company; Edward Casey, and Robert Bohm, now with the Forsberg Manufacturing Co.

Thomas Burns, Edwards & Co.; William Duch and Robert Ziller, Milton H. Friedberg Company; Charles Herbert and Gordon Williams, with Tilo Roofing Co.

Also, Rodney Hudson, with the Dictaphone Corp.; Earle Lindsley, Ralph Porter, with the Singer Mfg. Co.; Allen Moorin, D. M. Read Co.; Robert Moskowitz and John Takach, with Columbia Records; Warren Posser, and Thomas Sentementes, of the Connecticut Chemical Research Co.

Appoint Dr. Liscio Chairman Of Fones Advisory Committee

Dr. Paul P. Liscio was appointed chairman of the Connecticut State Dental Association's Advisory Committee for the Fones School of Dental Hygiene, the only school of oral hygiene on a college level in the State.

Other appointments to the committee include Dr. George W. Baldwin, Dr. Ira Dow Beebe, Dr. Bernard Berkowitz, Miss Helen B. Brown, Dr. Isidore J. Glattstein, Dr. Carl E. Hedberg, Miss Ethel B. Swimmer, Miss Mabel C. McCarthy, Dr. Edward J. Czarjka, Dr. Franklin J. Goldman, and Dr. Frederick A. Reiningier.

The announcement was made by Dr. Howard W. Miller, chairman of the Council on Dental Health of the State association.

Cash Awards for Go Lucky Jingles Make Poets Rich

Here is more information on the "Be Happy-Go Lucky" contest. The jingling of praises of Lucky Strikes out of the mouths of college smokers is causing a heavy jingling of cash in the pockets of creative minds on campus.

For each jingle accepted, $25 cash is paid out, and you can send in as many four-line jingles as you like. Many of them will be used in the "Be Happy-Go Lucky" advertising campaign which is appearing in college newspapers. It's first come, first serve, so it's best to get your entry in early.

Its good experience for advertising and journalism students in particular, since the jingles are accepted partly on the basis of what makes good advertising copy. Send your jingles to: Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York, 46, N. Y.

Sound Off!

T-e-a-m, let's go Bridgeport, c'mon team! are the kind of phrases that should be shouted at all UB football games. Perhaps our ears are not functioning properly, but we haven't heard any real cheering from the grandstands.

Yes, there has been cheering; without pep, punch or drive. Are the students to blame or is it the fault of the cheerleaders? In this case both sides are at fault. The cheerleaders are doing their job, but with a limited squad in number it is difficult for them to demand the attention which they should receive. Most of the student spectators disregard their efforts and do not cheer with them in unison. The result: next to no response.

We have some suggestions to offer:

1—Why not enlarge our cheering squad, with the membership open to fellows as well as girls. Some good bass voices out on the field would do wonders in getting response.

2—Learn the cheers we have now. Students who know peppy cheers and yells should submit them to the cheering squad. Variety adds spirit.

3—Watch your cheerleaders at the games. Know what cheer is being given, and at the signal give it all you've got.

UB wants a football team that they can be proud of and it's in the students' power to spur them on to victory. At the next football game, and all those to follow, exercise those vocal chords. Let the people in the opposite grandstands know that you are from UB.

Smokers Take Heed

This is National Fire Prevention Week. Don't shrug your shoulders and exclaim "so what!" As a citizen and a student you should become acquainted with your role in the prevention of fire.

There are specially designated smoking areas throughout the campus. Know where they are. Learn the city fire regulations so that there is no danger of smoking in a building where it is not allowed.

When you smoke outdoors, make sure that the match is out before throwing it away.

Stamp out or grind your cigarette butts.

Never put a lighted cigarette in an ash tray that does not balance in or snuffs it out.

Do not smoke where there are "No Smoking" signs.

Never throw a lighted cigarette out of a window or out of an automobile.

When you are in a closet, attic, or crowded room, avoid smoking.

When smoking never go near inflammable liquids.

Fires cost lives and money. Give fire prevention some serious thought.

Help Us To Help You!

The perennial problem of adequate publicity for all campus organizations is brought into the open several times during the year. This year, however, as part of an improved SCRIBE, we would like to apply some remedy to the situation before too many activities start.

After much consideration and deliberation, we decided that we will share the burden of proper news coverage with those who desire publicity.

For the benefit of all concerned, each organization should have one person to whom the responsibility of notifying the SCRIBE of any news would be relegated.

Such a system would be nearly foolproof. The SCRIBE simply does not have the means for discovering every bit of information. As much as we try to do so, we have found it impossible.

The SCRIBE would be glad to co-operate with all campus organizations. We ask you to do your part. Appoint a competent publicity director who will remain in close liaison with the SCRIBE. Let him come up to our office and introduce himself. We'll be glad to meet him.

Our Aim

To serve the students of UB by covering all campus events as adequately and promptly as we are able.

The present all news on an entertaining, adult level.

To encourage free expression in both students and faculty.

To promote a more unified University of Bridgeport.

Fulbright Scholarship Winners To Be Awarded Foreign Study

Opportunities for more than 600 Americans to undertake graduate study or research abroad during the 1951-52 academic year under the terms of the Fulbright Act have been announced by the Department of State.

Countries in which the grants are available are Australia, Belgium, Burma, Egypt, France, Greece, India, Iran, Italy, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, the Philippines, Thailand, Turkey and the United Kingdom.

The awards will enable students in all fields of graduate work and those with specialized research projects to study in foreign institutions and universities under renowned professors. Grants also are available to students with records of accomplishment in such fields as music, art architecture, and drama. A few opportunities in workers' education and social work are provided in the United Kingdom.

The Fulbright Act authorizes the Department of State to use certain foreign currencies and credits acquired through the sale of surplus property abroad for programs of educational exchange with other nations. Grants are normally made for one academic year and include transportation, tuition, living allowance, and a small amount for necessary books and equipment.

Interested students should request application forms at once from Mr. Kern. The closing date for reception of applications by the Fulbright Adviser is Oct. 31, 1950.

Veterans' Affairs

By AL SHERMAN

All bookstore veterans' charge cards must be turned into the Veterans Office when:

1. Amount allowed has been used up.
 2. When bookstore refuses to honor any further charges for the Fall Term.
- Important points to remember about the deadline date of July 25, 1951.

All veterans must be in training immediately prior to this date in order to be able to continue after that date. This means that a veteran must be in training during the Spring of 1951 or in the Summer of 1951.

Veterans who withdraw during this Fall and do not return until next Fall ('51) will not be permitted to re-enter under the G. I. bill. However, if you are hospitalized for a long period of time you should notify the V. A. directly at 95 Pearl St., Hartford, Conn.

After July 25, 1951, veterans must be in a continuous training status. That is, during the Fall and Spring Terms. Summer Sessions are optional. Exception to this rule is full time teachers who study only during Summer terms. Then they must continue their training every Summer until completion of objective.

Veterans who graduate in January or June of 1951 and wish to study graduate work must file for permission (Supplemental Letter of Eligibility) prior to graduation. Failure to do this will result in your election to stop training under the G. I. bill and you will be considered as having completed your objective.

THIS MAKES EVERYTHING CLEARER DEPT.

At Randolph Field, a high ranking officer, who asked that his name not be used, had no comment.

QUESTION: Everyone has at least one suppressed desire, what is yours?

Joyce Seligman, Dental Hygiene Senior: I'd like to complete my education by packing a bundle of clothes, tying them to a stick, and hitch-hiking around the world.

Al Nilson, Business Administration Senior: I'd like to have one outstanding talent that would benefit myself and others.

Bea DuPont, Liberal Arts Junior: To forget convention seems to be the basis of every suppressed desire. I've always wanted to have enough courage to forget tact and tell everyone exactly what I've felt to be the bold truth.

Catherine Ruskay, Dental Hygiene Junior: Whenever I see a bald man whose head doesn't shine, I always want to go over and polish it.

Enid Barton, Liberal Arts Sophomore: My suppressed desire is to get on the Dean's List so that I'll be able to have unlimited cuts.

Sunset Boulevard Is Fine Film Fare

By SAND MEHORTER

Hollywood's current surge of real class "A" pictures seems to be setting records everywhere. Perhaps the best example of Paramount's contribution to the honor role is D. M. Marshman's Sunset Boulevard.

Charles Brackett, who gave the film its first-rate production, and Billy Wilder, whose direction excels in every department, are unique in their teamwork (this pair startled audiences and won applause before such films as "A Foreign Affair" and "Lost Weekend"). Their script is dramatically sensational and satirically biting, lacking, however, in heart and warmth.

The story is about a desperately-broke young script-writer (Hollywood Present) and a middle-aged movie queen of the silent days (Hollywood Past). The writer, superlatively played by William Holden, tries to make a fast few bucks by rewriting a scenario of "Salome" which the faded movie queen, Gloria Swanson, wants Cecil B. DeMille to direct. So the young writer moves to her fantastic house on Sunset Boulevard, stays and becomes her gigolo and, before the film comes to its theatrically stage and tragic final, he falls in love with a girl of his own age and tastes the bitter fruit of his degrading situation.

Supporting Holden and Swanson were Erich von Stroheim—the forgotten star's chauffeur and butler, Cecil B. DeMille, Hedda Hopper, Anna Q. Nilsson, H. B. Warner, and Buster Keaton. And it is the accumulation of these important roles which add up to a revealing whole.

J. Arthur Rank's hilarious comedy, Passport to Pimlico, will be at the Black Rock Theater. Topping the large cast are such stars as Stanley Holloway, Hermione Baddeley, Margaret Rutherford, and Paul Dupuis. It's an Eagle-Lion Film, directed by Henry Corneius and produced by Michael Balcon.

UB Seeks Third Win Saturday

HIGH STEPPERS Johnny Longo, left, and Frank Giannini are expected to carry the brunt of the University of Bridgeport running attack when the UBees face New Haven Teachers College next Saturday night, Oct. 21, at Candlelite Stadium.

Meets Arnold In Candlelite Nighter; Wilkes Beaten, 25-13

Victors in their last two starts and getting better with each game a good UB grid squad meets non-winning Arnold College Saturday night at Candlelite Stadium. Kick-off time is the usual 8:00 P. M.

The contest, marking the first of two straight with Conn. opponents for the U-Bees (they play New Haven Teachers Oct. 28) will match an Arnold eleven that has been rather soundly trounced in their only two outings with a Bridgeport club that has shown a decided improvement with each game and from all appearances is still far from its peak.

Arnold winning two and tying one in an eight-game 1949 slate has gotten off on the wrong foot this campaign. After losing to Northeastern by two touchdowns in their opener, the Terriers were soundly thrashed by Rider College last Friday, 36-6.

FAVORED BY TWO TD'S

Last season, UB dropped Arnold, 13-0, in a saveagely played encounter, especially in the line. However, if form holds up, UB favored in this corner by two TD's, may run up an even bigger margin Saturday.

Off the Wilkes game it is difficult to predict otherwise. The U-B's got going a bit earlier than against Ithaca and ruined Wilkes with their second half surge.

Wilkes scored first but UB tied them before the halftime intermission at 6-6 and then whipped them thoroughly 25-13. The Colonels' late game tally narrowed the final margin to only two touchdowns.

BLOMBERG IN LINEUP

Pat Blomberg made his initial appearance in a Bridgeport uniform and seemed to be the spark the backfield needed to really go. Overcoming a slight case of first-half jitters, Blomberg consistently gained ground in the final two quarters. He scored two of UB's four TD's, both on short smashes through the line and accounted for numerous first downs at vital points in the scoring marches.

UB's ground attack in that second half was terrific. They ran up a total gain of 218 yards rushing.

Accounting for most of this yardage was, besides Blomberg, Frank Giannini, Johnny (Babe) Longo, Tony Ross, and Frank Costa.

Giannini and Costa tallied the other Bridgeport touchdowns, the former on a 49-yard bootleg dash and the latter on a one-yard buck. Jack Colgan kicked the lone extra point but missed three others.

LINE IMPROVED

Bridgeport's line play, particularly in the middle, was much improved over the first two performances. Although Wilkes did drive on the ground for both their tallies, UB had enough to hold them throughout most of the encounter, thus paving the way for the backs to run wild in the second half.

Saccone Given Scholarship

Lou Saccone, captain of UB's football team, was last week presented with a scholarship from Sigma Phi Alpha fraternity. Theodore A. Huminski, treasurer of SPA, made the presentation.

With a value of $100, the award is annually made by the fraternity to an upper classman who has demonstrated scholastic ability and leadership, and has performed in an outstanding manner in a major sport.

Saccone, in addition to being a letterman in football, was also awarded monograms for his play on the 1949-50 UB basketball team and the 1950 baseball club. In presenting the scholarship to Saccone, it marked the second straight year that a member of the grid squad received the honor, Don (Duck) Marchette being the recipient last year.

Fraternity officers besides Huminski, include George Metzger, president; Larry Seamon, vice-president; Bill Sparks, corresponding secretary; Francis Kraynick, recording secretary; and Jim Quigley, alumni secretary. Charles F. Petitjean is faculty adviser.

FOOTBALL

Catching key passes in UB's two touchdown drives and starring on the defense in his club's 13-6 win over Ithaca College last Saturday was left end Andy Olayos, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Olayos, 642 Atlantic St., Bridgeport.

A 21-year-old junior enrolled in the school of Business Administration with Marketing his major, Andy is currently serving his third year on UB's varsity grid squad. He was a letterman his first two seasons. Andy was also a monogram winner at Bas-sick High School where he graduated in 1948.

Although his main interest is football, Andy also plays Junior College basketball and intramural softball, being captain of the 1949 champs, the Crackerjacks.

Sixteen Clubs Set For IM Grid Loop

UB's men's intramural program for the school year of 1950-51 swung into action last Monday with the opening of play in the touch football leagues.

Sixteen teams have signed up for play in the twin circuits. The eight clubs comprising the fraternity loop are Alpha Gamma Phi, last year's league champs; Kappa Beta Rho, Theta Sigma, Pi Omega Chi, Upsilon Beta Sigma, Sigma Phi Alpha, Beta Alpha, and Delta Epsilon Beta.

NEW LEAGUE

In the old dormitory league, now the Independent League are Park Hall, 1949 school champs; Trumbull Hall, Bergen Boys, the Hillside, and four other teams which have not as yet decided upon a name.

IM boss Tony Iannone announced that all rosters must positively be in his hands before the start of a team's second league start or else the offending squad will be eliminated from further play.

Iannone also listed two records which will be up for grabs during this season's action. The two

UB Soccer Squad Prepares For CCNY Opener Saturday

UB's soccer squad opens their 1950 eight-game schedule this Saturday afternoon when they play host to a strong CCNY eleven at Seaside Park. Starting time for the struggle is 2:00 P. M.

Coach Tony Iannone, after two weeks of intensive drills and scrimmages has settled on nine-elevens of his starting line-up, and declares his club to be in much better shape than the 1949 aggregation was for their opener. "Potentially we have a much stronger squad than last season," the young mentor stresses, "This year we have a scoring punch, something that was sadly lacking in 1949. Our reserves, especially in the forward wall are much stronger."

HALFBACKS UNDECIDED

The two positions still undecided as to starters are the right and left halfback posts. Otherwise the team looks to be fairly set.

"I have a half dozen halfbacks to work with but I just can't

X-Country Squad Engages Iona In Sat. Road Opener

Still evasive about saying anything concerning the prospects for the coming campaign, UB cross-country Coach Ed Tamashunas will send his hill-and-dalers against Iona College in the 1950 season's opener this Saturday in New Rochelle, N. Y.

Possessed of a squad of 10 men and hopeful of acquiring a few more before the schedule grows older, Tamashunas is in the process of searching for a good fifth man to round out his starting five.

"We have four good boys but I am still looking for that fifth runner," Tammy, explains. "I should be able to tell who he will be by match time Saturday."

After two and one-half weeks of training at Seaside the team was sent over the hills around North Park Ave., including Fairchild-Wheeler golf course, the past two days in final preparation for the Iona encounter.

Marketing Majors Map Membership Movement

The Marketing Club is conducting a membership drive under the direction of Joseph Villella and Albert Falcone, membership committeemen. All U. B. students who are interested in marketing are asked to contact either a membership committeeman or a club member.

At the next meeting of the club, Oct. 19, at 8 P. M., elections will be in order and a constitution enacted. Serving on the Nominating Committee are: Walter Langhorst, Tyler Cobb, and Paul Elkin.

Faculty adviser, Louis Tamiso, hopes for a successful year and plans to combine both business with pleasure as is indicated by the entertainment committee plans.

Coury Appointed UB Student Head Of Women's Intramural

Following men's Intramural activities in getting under way, the first sport offered UB co-eds will be a volleyball league which starts next Monday, Oct. 16. Any female teams interested in joining the league are asked to hand in their rosters to either IM Director Tony Iannone or newly appointed Student Supervisor for Women's Intramurals, Miss Jean Coury.

Jean a resident student living in Linden Hall is now in full charge of all women athletic activities and in conjunction with Iannone has announced a large offering of sports for the coming year. Included are in addition to volleyball, basketball, bowling, table tennis, chess and checker competition, shuffle-board, swimming, ping pong, softball, and badminton.

TO MAKE SURVEY

When asked about her new position and her intended plans Jean states, "Director Iannone and myself are going to make a survey this week, visiting two dorms a night, to get comments and suggestions about the intramural program from the girls themselves so that we may be able to present a well rounded list of activities throughout the year.

"We are going to have a bigger and better sports program for the girls this year and I expect enthusiastic co-operation and participation from all the girls," she adds.

In about a week or two, a meeting will be called of all the sports representatives of the various girls' dorms and independent groups to form an IM Women's Council. Representatives thus far elected are Renee Gratum and Abbey Luria, Seaside Hall; Jane Continella and Mikki Cohen, Southport Hall; Barbara Collier and Nancy Longfield, Linden Hall; and Bets Hertney, Wistaria Hall.

Sports Review

by BILL CHAMBAULT, JR.
SPORTS EDITOR

WE'VE BEEN PUZZLED ever since we took a look at the attendance figures for last Saturday's night game against Wilkes College. Only a meager gathering of 1,772 fans saw UB rip the Colonels, 25-13. The week before versus Ithaca, UB drew 2,022 paid. And that followed a defeat by Adelphi. The team won two Saturdays ago and in the process lost exactly 250 spectators. In this case it doesn't pay to win.

Besides being puzzled we're also very disgusted with who ever is to blame for the poor UB gate showings. Perhaps it is the school's student body. With a total enrollment roughly estimated at close to 3500 students we see no reason why at least 60% of them cannot attend the football games.

DON'T TAKE US wrong. We are definitely not a member of the "Rah-Rah" school; one who is always crying because no one cheers at the games; one who is always crying about the lack of school spirit. Far from it. What we're concerned about is that high school grid games in Bridgeport continually draw healthy crowds of upwards of 10,000 people.

Particularly so with Harding HS which very seldom plays before a crowd lower than 5,000. Why this condition? Harding's enrollment certainly is not that high. The brand of ball nor their opponents are definitely not on a par with UB's. We watched Harding play twice this season and were impressed by the huge throngs in attendance. In fact, we were pleased to see such interest taken in HS ball.

But why do people prefer HS ball to that of college? Certainly not for lack of a winner. Last season UB won five of seven starts and was unbeaten at home. This campaign they have won two of three outings and are still unbeaten in their two home contests.

WE DON'T EXPECT the populace (including students) to overflow Candlelite Stadium whenever UB plays. But we would like to see at least a few faces there. Funny part about it is; when you talk to the students in class and around campus, it seems as though everyone and his proverbial brother saw this game or that game.

We have yet to hear a good alibi for not attending the games. Last year it was the lack of funds that kept the greater part of the student body away; or at least that is what THEY used to say. Now every UB'er has a student activities book (already paid for) which will admit him to all home games. So that excuse is out. But have no fear; somebody will find another one just as poor.

marks are, most points scored in one game (40 by AGP); and highest total points in one season (84 by the now defunct Steamrollers).

COMMITTEE MEETS

IM Chairman Lionel F. (Mac) McCabe Jr., representing AGP, and Iannone jointly posted a notice listing the second meeting of the IM council along with all football managers, at 6:30 P. M. Thursday in the Athletic Office, rear of Bishop Hall.

The members of the IM Council include besides McCabe, Al Sency, KBR; Warren Chamberlain, TS; Bob Unger, POC; John Kane, DEB; Charlie Zalinger, UBS; John Micka, SPA; Howard Howes, BA; Dave Levin, Park Hall; and Bob Shyer, Trumbull Hall.

outstanding players on the 1950 squad.

Previous to enrolling in UB, Luis received recognition as being the outstanding youth in soccer in the city of Quito. His position is center forward.

This is Luis' first visit to the United States; in fact he had been in the States only 13 days before coming to UB as a student in the Division of Engineering with a major of electrical engineering.

Luis thinks that the people of America are different in many ways from the people of his country. He is especially fond of UB's co-eds, particularly those with a combination of blonde hair and blue eyes.

Cross-Country

"Wish I had more like," remarks cross-country Coach Ed Tamashunas, speaking in reference to Jack Gaston, 21-year-old sophomore from Pelham, N. Y. Jack, another Marketing major, is working his way through school, but also finds enough extra time to take active part in varsity sports, especially cross-country and track.

Jack came to UB from Pelham High School where he was a three-letter man, winning awards in football, cross-country, and track. Last year as a Freshman, he won berths on both running squads and earned monograms in each.

Jack's other interests lay outside the sports field. Confessing that he has a wee bit of "ham" in him, Jack is a candidate for a role in Campus Thunder.

"Does your wife keep her temper under control?"

"Yes, she's able to make it bad, terrible, or insufferable, which ever she prefers."

PLATTER PARADE

By G. CLEF

Besides "Mona Lisa" by King Cole, Capitol has been plugging away at three platters, one of which is a well established hit and the other two show definite promise.

Kay Starr is on two. The first of course is "Bonaparte's Retreat," which you have no doubt heard all Summer long. This one has been hovering around the number ten spot for about four months, along with another that seems cemented, Hugo Winterhalter's "Count Every Star."

On the second of the Starr platters Kay teams up with the "Wild Goose" serenades with Tennessee Williams. The ditty is titled "I'll Never Be Free." Unfortunately, a cowboy song, no matter how it is dressed up—is a cowboy song. "I'll Never Be Free" is one of these. The beat is slow and steady. Along in the breaks, a guitar with Alvino Rey-ish qualities can be heard. But as bad as this record is I'll bet it pulls in nickels by the ton.

It may never make the list of the best twenty nickel-pullers, but I doubt if it will stay far away from position number twenty-one.

Maggie Whiting rounds out this group of three discs with a lively, brisk platter called "Let's Do It Again." In it she has a small combo background but carries the record all the way home and does a fairly good job of it, too.

"How old is you?"

"Ah's five. How old is you?"

"Ah don't know."

"Yo don' know how old you is?"

"Nope."

"Does women botha' you?"

"Nope."

"You's fo'."
